

Since you claim to be impartial, you should live up to your word and either take off this documentary or air Up the River.